

Long Valley Division Orderville, Utah.

March 5th 1933:

Dear Sir:—

Thanks for the information received in your letter of March 2nd.

I have at hand your letter of July 12th 1934 in which you state that there has been a feud or contention between myself and J. L. Bowers, over the water. I beg to state, that this statement is wrong. Our trouble has been caused, and is being continued, through the neglect of non-competent water commissioners, and neglect of your office.

If you further notify me that you intend to bring court action against me, as I have been served with neither warrant nor summons, would you inform me of the nature of the threatened case, and when I may expect action?

May I have your consideration, in regard to J. L. Bowers placing a control gate, in the intake of his ditch, as the division gate, now being used is practically at the rear end of his ditch. Mr. Bowers carries a part of my water through his ditch to this dividing gate, which is a considerable distance, leaving a part in its natural channel, thus I stand the seepage and evaporation on both streams. However if Mr. Bowers, would care to maintain a dry dam, and carry the water all in one body, to said dividing gate, it would be satisfactory.

As the time for cleaning and repairing ditches is now at hand, it would be the proper time to install this gate.

Yours truly

David L. Frost.
